Question 1: Do you have any comments on the proposed structure of the Classification of Environmental Functions?

Proposed structure of the Classification of Environmental Function is good.

Question 2. Do you have any comments on the explanatory notes and on the heading reference?

Explanatory notes for Classifications of environmental functions (CEF) are excellent and will be especially helpful in data collection for survey on environmental protection expenditure. Data providers will better understand all activities related to environmental protection and resource management, which will result in better response and better quality data. On the other hand, it will also help users in better understanding environmental monetary accounts and the results published in this area.

Question 3. Do you have any other comments on the Classification of Environmental Functions?

Classification of Environmental Function is good.
