

Discussion on country practices with reporting on the biodiversity indicators

Sokol Vako

United Nations Statistical Institute for Asia and the Pacific

8 September 2025

Brief introduction to the session (5 min)

- NBSAPs: important national document laying out the strategy and action plan for biodiversity
- Data a key part of NBSAPs
- Multiple institutions need to collaborate for the successful implementation of NBSAPs
- There could be other national policies centered around biodiversity

Group work (with colleagues from your country-30 min)

Based on NBSAPs and other national policy documents briefly:

- 1) 2-3 priority biodiversity related indicators and why they are important
- 2) institutional mechanism (if time permits)

Group work (with colleagues from your country-30 min)

Based on NBSAPs and/or other national policy documents relevant to biodiversity:

- 1) Identify at most 3 (no more!) indicators of high importance and why they are important in your countries policy context
- 2) Briefly discuss the main mechanism for reporting on biodiversity (if timing allows e.g., main institutions involved and how they collaborate)
- 3) We will come back to this on Thursday
